Continual mentoring is provided by teachers for developing professional attributes in students.

Professional development of the future teachers is the prominent purpose of teaching learning process; hence the institution has a system of continual mentoring for students. Classes for mentoring are held under tutorial periods as outlined in the consolidated time table. This system works on the initiative of providing academic and personal support to the students for their betterment in academic performance and professional career. It is a better way to cover the gap between mentor and mentee. It is obvious that during 2 years B.Ed. Programme, students may have to face numerous complexities in their academics, therefore to cope up with such challenges and enable them to escalate in both academic and professional skills.

Continual mentoring is provided by teachers making students to work in teams and honour diversity. A warm and conducive environment is provided that supports students to balance home and work stress as well as keeping themselves up-to-date with recent technologies in education and life. They are further enriched by arranging expert talks on the themes like Communication Skills and personality development. Webinars, workshops and seminar are planned and organized to inculcate professional skills among students. Various opportunities are given for development of skills of cooperative learning, group dynamics, and decision making, learning critically, practical implications of teaching methodologies management of class room, dealing with ICT tools to access data and information beyond the curriculum, access e-books and e-journals from N-LIST programme of INFLIBNET, access e-books through WONDERSLATE, exploring innovative ways for model making, assignments teaching aids to use internet for online self study courses as well

A faculty member is a mentor for a group of 10-15 students and monitors them during that academic year. A student can approach to his/her mentor for any personal or academic guidance. He/She guides students regarding their performance in curricular or co-curricular activities, health issues and grievances if any.

Mentors under the guidance of principal provide students solutions of their personal problems and help them to seek professional advice regarding various issues during their 2 year programme such as improvement in academics, participation in various curricular and co-curricular activities and any grievances they have. This is done to identify and nurture the hidden talents of students.

The meritorious students are provided with enrichment classes, while remedial classes are conducted for students (slow learners) who need academic support. The mentors identify and take necessary action with regard to students who do not meet the criteria of attendance as outlined under the college norms. Mentor is also responsible for sanctioning maximum 2 leaves to mentees. Their applications are forwarded to the principal in case they need more leave.
